True Confessions of a Culture Vulture

Dear Friends,

I cannot believe that one year has passed since our last online wine-and-dine session! During those months we have weathered a terrible pandemic, re-adjusted our studios to an online teaching model (Welcome to the club!), and prepared our students for a myriad of online assessments, examinations, and festivals. Indeed, the term zoomer has taken on a whole new meaning for many of us.

I hope you can join me on Sunday May 30th, 6-7:15 pm for this year's online Wine-and-Dine Celebration which I am calling True Confessions of a Culture Vulture. I will be presenting a variety of musical and theatre works that I have been privileged to attend over the past 50 years of theatre-going. (Note: I won't be repeating works from my past two ORMTA presentations!)

I will be showcasing works of people that I have had the pleasure to meet in person – many of whom are my long-standing friends! The music will be uplifting - you might even say “out of this world” (you'll have to wait and see what that means). Of course, it will be peppered with fond remembrances, amusing anecdotes and a whole lot of heart.

So – on May 30th, I hope you will gather the family around the computer/tablet/smart tv – and celebrate with me what has helped us get through it all – music and art!

Keep the Faith!
