"We are all history teachers. In the first practical lesson we become story tellers as we contextualize the music they are playing. Through our teaching we share with them our personal explorations of history and style – we take them on exciting voyages of discovery.

Whether you teach history "formally" or not, you will come away with fresh insights into the music of four eras – Baroque, Classical, Romantic and Modern. Join us for three fun-filled sessions as we unravel the music, magic and mayhem that is music history!"
